7. The sale of the property will not become absolute until the sale has been confirmed by the Dewan.

8. No. 242.—Whereas, by order of His Highness the Maharaja's Government No. 3662-70—98, dated Bangalore, the 2nd August 1881, the settlement of coffee lands in Mysore on an acreage assessment, in accordance with the Land Revenue laws in force, was sanctioned, and whereas such settlement has now been nearly completed, His Highness the Maharaja's Government hereby notify for the information of all concerned as follows:—

1stly. The halat duty on coffee and cardamom is abolished with effect from the date of the aforesaid settlement.

2ndly. In accordance with the laws in force, no additional land revenue is leviable by reason of any produce whatsoever raised upon the lands to which the aforesaid settlement has been extended.

3rdly. All jungle and petty izardars, including toddy and other contractors, are hereby prohibited from entering upon the lands to which the aforesaid settlement has been extended, without the consent of the occupants thereof.

4thly. Toddy being a Government monopoly, no one except the Government contractor has, under the law in force, authority to draw it, for purposes of sale, from bagani and other trees standing upon lands to which the aforesaid settlement has been extended. The holders of such lands are hereby permitted to draw toddy from bagani or other trees for domestic purposes such as the making of bread, &c.

5thly (a.) The right to the seven descriptions of trees marginally noted, growing or to grow on the lands to which the aforesaid settlement has been extended, and which are charged with the full acreage assessment, whether fixed in perpetuity or for 30 years, shall vest in Government. But the holders of the aforesaid lands will be allowed to use, free of charge, the timber of the aforesaid trees, except sandal, for their own bonâ fide purposes.

If the Government right to trees is not purchased by the holder as above provided for, a seigniorage will be levied by Government upon all aforesaid trees, (except sandal) which may be felled otherwise than for the bonâ fide private purposes of the holder.

(c.) No sandal trees growing or to grow upon the aforesaid lands shall be felled, used or disposed of, except by or under the orders of Government.

10thly. For land to which the aforesaid settlement has been extended and for which the Government assessment has been fixed in perpetuity, a title-deed in the appended Form A will be granted. For land to which the aforesaid settlement has been extended and for which the Government assessment has been fixed for 30 years, a title-deed in the appended Form B will be granted when the holding exceeds 20 acres in extent ; when such holding does not exceed 20 acres in extent, the receipt form prescribed by the Revenue Survey and Settlement Rules will be granted, but the tenure shall be the same as if a title-deed in Form B had been granted.

Rule of Practice No. 57, dated 9th March 1885.

It is observed that several Judges, when exercising the discretion vested in them by the provisions of Section 220, Code of Civil Procedure, in not decreeing costs to follow the event, content themselves by saying, "under the circumstances of the case each party is to bear his own costs." The law requires that when a Judge does not decree costs to follow the event, he should record his specific reasons for so decreeing. The specific circumstances of the case which have induced the Judge so to decree should always be recorded, to enable the Appellate Court to decide whether the discretion has been properly exercised.

By Order of the Court,

S. HAMAJEE ROW,

TALUK SAVINGS BANK ACCOUNTS, NUMBERING AND TRANSFERRING FROM ONE TREASURY TO ANOTHER.

Circular No. 1627, dated 21st March 1885.

The practice in respect to the numbering of Savings Bank depositors' accounts in the District and Taluk Treasuries not being uniform, the Comptroller has the honor to lay down the following rules on this point and for the transfer of accounts from one Treasury to another :—

Numbering.

2. The District and Taluk Treasuries should have each a separate series of numbers and the same Taluk numbers should be preserved in the ledger kept at the District Treasury. No general series for the whole District is necessary, nor is it desirable, and in the two Treasuries of Bangalore and Shimoga where a general series has been introduced, it should be brought to a termination on the 31st March 1885.

3. From 1st April 1885 and each succeeding year the deposits received in the Savings Bank should be numbered with a fresh annual series beginning with No. 1 in every Treasury, District or Taluk.

Transfers.

4. When a depositor's account is transferred from one District Treasury to another, or from one Taluk Treasury to another, it should be treated as a new account in the receiving treasury and should have a new number assigned to it in the Savings Bank's ledger and pass book, the former number being struck out.

5. No Savings Bank account will be transferred from one Taluk to another of the same District except under the order of the District Treasury Officer. The depositor must deliver up his Pass Book to the Amildar of the Taluk (A) in which the deposit stands, with an application stating to what Taluk (B) he wishes it to be transferred. The Amildar (A) will send the application and the pass book to the Treasury Officer of his District who will close the account by entering in the pass book after the last entry the amount of balance at credit with the words "Transferred to the Taluk Treasury at ———" signing the entry. He will then send the depositor's application and Pass Book with an order to the Amildar (B) to open an account in the depositor's name (with a new number), by copying out from the pass book the balance at close of last year and the items of receipt and withdrawal for the current year, and to credit the balance transferred to the depositor in the ledger as well as in the Taluk C. account of the day as a Savings Bank deposit transferred from A, and also to charge it on the other side of the C. account under Taluk Remittances. On application, the receiving Taluk Treasury (B) will deliver the pass book to the depositor.

6. The District Treasury Officer must also direct the transferring Amildar (A) to charge the amount of balance in his C. account under Savings Bank deposits (transferred) and credit it under Taluk Remittances, and to refer the depositor to the receiving Amildar (B) for his pass book.

7. When a transfer is wanted from a Taluk in one District to a Taluk in another, the transferring Amildar (A) will send the application and pass book to the District Treasury, which will debit the balance under Taluk Remittances and remit the amount by a public service transfer receipt, with the pass book, to the other District Treasury which will send them on to the Taluk (B) to which the transfer is to be made. Both Taluk Amildars (A & B) will be instructed by the respective District Treasuries to make the requisite entries in their C. accounts as Savings Bank ledgers prescribed above.

8. District Treasuries will, for convenience of reference, keep an alphabetical index of all depositors' names borne on the general ledger of the District. A similar index will be kept in every Taluk of the names of the depositors borne on its books if they are numerous.

H. HUDSON,
Comptroller.

Add the following as Rule (e) under this Section:—

“(e) In the case of Signallers in the Telegraph Department, the medical certificate prescribed by this Section may, if it is found after medical examination that it cannot be granted, be dispensed with in special cases when inefficiency is not the result of misconduct, and instead of it two certificates—one in form (1), signed by two superior officers of the Telegraph Department; and the other in form (2), signed by the Director General of Telegraphs—may be substituted.”

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

As a variety of forms of address is used to the Medical Officer in administrative charge of medical affairs in Mysore Province, it is deemed necessary to notify that the proper address is

"THE SENIOR SURGEON,"

"MYSORE GOVERNMENT,"

"BANGALORE."

"Brigade-Surgeon," and "Surgeon-Major," &c., are titles of army medical rank, and have not much significance in Civil employ.

The same officer has now a variety of executive medical work to do, in regard to which he should be addressed as "Civil Surgeon, Bangalore," or as "Medical Officer in charge of Civil Medical duties," or of "such and such Institution," as the case may be.

II. List of estimates sanctioned by the Vice-President during the month of March 1885.

Number.	Name of Work.
1	Raising and asphaltting the present urinals in the Town.

Resolution.—Approved, and that the cost of the work, viz., Rs. 55, be met from the budget allotment under head “XI:1 Reserve.”

III. Proceedings of the Dewan of Mysore, Camp No. 105, dated Mysore, 6th April 1885, transferring from the current official year the management of the Langarkhana at Bangalore to this Municipality.

Resolved that the management of the Langarkhana be undertaken by the Municipality from the 1st proximo.

IV. Proceedings of the Dewan of Mysore, No. 52-3—3, dated 8th April 1885, sanctioning the proposed expenditure of Rs. 350 towards the animal vaccination.

Resolution.—Recorded.

V. Letter No. 1, dated 10th April 1885, from the officiating Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government, Bangalore, proposing certain increases of the existing establishment of the City Maternity.

Resolution.—The Board consider the increase proposed by Doctor Henderson to the existing maternity establishment, as detailed in his statement, very necessary, and sanction the same subject to the approval of Government.

VI. Proposal to purchase fire engines for the use of the City Municipality.

Resolution.—The proposition be deferred till the next meeting of the Board, by which time, it is hoped, a reply will be received from Messrs. Richardson and Cruddas & Co., Byculla, to whom a reference has been made by the Vice-President to ascertain the cost thereof.

VII. Deferred proposition of the last meeting, as regards the burial ground near Subedar Chuttrum.

Resolved.—That the provisions of the Bye-law against burial in shallow graves be strictly enforced, and that a watchman be temporarily posted to see that graves are dug to the required depth. The Board also resolve that the site now used for cremation purposes being somewhat near to the supply channel, and consequently objectionable in a sanitary point of view, the site which is a little higher up and situated to the east of the said channel, be allotted for the said purpose.

VIII. Deferred proposition as regards refund of certain land revenue to the kayemguttadars of Dodgunta village.

Resolved.—That the refund applied for cannot be granted, as no portion of the revenue of Dodgunta village was ever paid to the Town Municipality, as it was not one of those villages whose revenue the City and Station Municipalities received from the Government in equal shares, previous to Rendition. But it is understood that after the Rendition, the village above named was included within Municipal limits of the Civil and Military Station, and the City Municipality had therefore nothing to do with it.

IX. Proposed arrangement regarding the city lighting.

Resolved.—That until a Lighting Inspector is appointed by the Board, the Police be asked to continue the inspection of lighting and reporting to the Municipality any defects therein. The Deputy Commissioner be addressed on the subject of Police supervision.

X. Proposed improvement to the existing Cattle Pound and constructing a store-room for gardener in the Municipal garden.

Resolution.—Approved; and the estimated cost of the work be met from the budget allotment under "XIII. Reserve."

XI. Statement showing the number of patients admitted into the City Maternity during the year 1884—85, and the average monthly expenditure incurred for the past 6 months.

Resolution.—The above statements show that more than  $\frac{2}{3}$  of the patients admitted into the City Maternity are the residents of the Civil and Military Station, and that the Station Municipality be requested through the Resident for a suitable contribution towards the expenses of the Maternity, at the same time forwarding for their information copies of the above statements furnished by the Senior Surgeon to the Mysore Government.

Additional Propositions.

I. Letter dated 24th April 1885 from Revd. B. Rice, regarding the Municipal assessment charged on the school buildings of his mission.

Resolved.—That as there has been some delay in the settlement of the question whether school buildings can be charged Municipal assessment or otherwise, the disputed arrears be remitted, and the assessment regularly levied from the official year 1885—86.

II. Letter from Mr. E. Hewetson, District Superintendent of Police, Civil and Military Station, dated 24th instant, on the subject of Hackney Carriage Rules lately introduced into the Station.

Resolution.—The Commissioners consider it desirable that the Rules framed under the Hackney Carriage Act, now in force in the Civil and Military Station Municipality, should also be made applicable to the City in the interests of the public, and that the Government be addressed on the subject.

A. SRINIVASACHAR,
Vice-President.

Condition of Crops.—Standing crops are fair, except in Manjarabad Taluk where more rain is needed.

Prospects.—Generally good.

Health.—Good, except in parts of Mudgere and Manjarabad where fever prevailed during the month; but in the Taluks of Hassan and Belur people are reported to have suffered much from the intensity of the sun and failure of water-supply.

Live-Stock.—The loss in cattle has fallen from 1,237 in the previous month to 831 in this month. Foot and mouth disease prevailed in a small degree in Mudgere Taluk. The small-pox which raged in the Taluks of Kadur and Arsikere last month abated this month, and the loss under this head was but insignificant. In other Taluks the live stock is in fair condition; but in parts of Arsikere Taluk cattle are reported to have suffered much from want of forage and water.

Lands.—Lands assessed at Rs. 6,429—12—0 were taken up for cultivation, while lands assessed at Rs. 15,438—14—0 were resigned. The large number of resignations was owing to the closing of the official year and the term of tendering resignations.

Acts and Regulations passed by His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore

REGULATION I OF 1885.

The following Regulation received the assent of His Highness the Maharaja on the 23rd May 1885 and is hereby promulgated for general information.

PREAMBLE.

WHEREAS, by a Sannad granted by His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore under date the 27th December 1807, the Taluk of Yelandur was granted as Jaghir to the late Dewan Purnaiya and his heirs and successors, in perpetuity, as a reward for the meritorious services rendered by the said Dewan Purnaiya, and in order that his descendants may live in perpetual ease and comfort :

AND WHEREAS, with the object of carrying out the purposes of such grant, the Government of Mysore did, at various times, pass orders with the view to regulate the succession to, and define the mode of enjoyment of, the said Jaghir of Yelandur :

AND WHEREAS doubts have arisen as to the validity of some of the orders of Government in regard to the said Jaghir, and it is deemed expedient to remove such doubts and to make adequate provision for the maintenance of the dignity of the head of the family of the said Dewan Purnaiya and for the support of the subordinate members thereof, His Highness the Maharaja is pleased to enact as follows :—

Section 1.—This Regulation may be called “The Yelandur Jaghir Regulation, 1885,” and it shall come into force upon the passing thereof.

Section 2.—(1). (2.) The family of the said Dewan Purnaiya shall, for the purposes of this Regulation, comprise and include the existing members named and enumerated in the order of their respective seniority under five branches in Schedule B appended to this Regulation, and their lineal descendants whether by blood or adoption according to the rules and usages of the Hindu Law ; also any other legal heirs, male or female, of the said lineal descendants in the ascending, descending or collateral lines.

(3.) Subject to the other provisions of this Regulation the said Jaghir of Yelandur and the full proprietary rights therein shall vest in, and be held and enjoyed by, one person only at a time who shall be called “The Jaghirdar of Yelandur” and to whom all other members of the family of the said Dewan Purnaiya shall be subordinate. Provided that the lineal descendants and other legal heirs of the persons named and enumerated in the first branch in the aforesaid Schedule B, shall be preferred to, and shall be entitled to succeed before, the lineal descendants and other legal heirs of the persons, named and enumerated in the second and every other branch in the Schedule B aforesaid; and on failure of the lineal descendants and other legal heirs of the persons named and enumerated in the first branch, the lineal descendants and other legal heirs of the persons named and enumerated in the second and every other branch, shall be entitled to succeed according to the order of the branches in the Schedule B aforesaid, successively one branch after the other, the lineal descendants and other legal heirs of any one branch to be preferred to, and to be entitled to succeed before the lineal descendants and other legal heirs of the branch next to it and so on in the order specified in the aforesaid Schedule B.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT. MUSEUMS AND EXHIBITIONS.

CIRCULAR No. 106 Ex.—17-19.

Simla, 29th September 1884.

With reference to the 6th and 7th paragraphs of my Circular No. 102—17-10 Ex., dated the 5th September 1884, I am now directed to forward a copy of a Despatch * to Her Majesty's Secretary of State, with appendices, showing the classification proposed for the London Exhibition of 1886, and an estimate of the space which will probably be required. With reference to the classified list, I am to request that the officer appointed to deal with Exhibition arrangements in the Province of _____ may be asked to draw up a preliminary rough list of the artwares, &c., which in his opinion are eligible for exhibition, ranging them under the classes, divisions, and sections of the list. It may be added that the Government of India would be glad if the opportunity were taken of improving and expanding the classified list, or of offering any suggestions on the subject which may be prompted by local knowledge and experience, provided that the general scheme and system adopted be adhered to.

* No. 13, dated the 23rd September 1884.

E. C. BUCK,
Secy. to the Govt. of India.

No. 13 of 1884.

To—The Right Honorable the EARL OF KIMBERLEY, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, Simla, the 23rd September 1884.

MY LORD,

We have now the honor to reply to the 8th paragraph of Your Lordship's Despatch No. 105, dated 31st July 1884, asking to be supplied by the 1st of October with a classified statement of objects to be shown at the Indian and Colonial Exhibition of 1886, together with an estimate of the space required.

2. First, as to space. Having only received this Despatch on the 22nd of August, we found it impossible to obtain replies from Local Governments and Native States in time to communicate by letter before the 1st October the amount of space required for the whole of India. As it is, the information on which the appended estimate is based is at present incomplete,—some replies being still wanting. Moreover, the plans A and B, stated, in a note to the 9th paragraph of Your Lordship's Despatch, to be annexed, have not yet been received.

3. The requisitions furnished by Local Governments and Departments have been in some cases considerably modified and reduced, and the appended estimate is believed to give the minimum space required for a fully representative collection. Any reduction below 60,000 square feet would cause inconvenient crowding. It will thus be seen that the area suggested in the 9th paragraph of the Despatch under reply, namely 39,500 feet, is about two-thirds of the space which the information we have already received leads us to think will be required. In any case, it would seem difficult to lower the estimate below 50,000 square feet, exclusive of the greater part of Class E. This class will apparently be chiefly filled by European exhibitors, and we have not included in our estimate space for any section of it, except indigenous machinery, although it is necessary to remember that large requisitions in this class may be made by European merchants and manufacturers in India. Nor have we calculated space, in Class D, for private collections of Indian artwares and manufactures which may be contributed in England.

4. The next point is the classification to be adopted in the Exhibition. We append hereto a classified list, which, so far as its general construction is concerned, is based upon the rough scheme enclosed in Your Lordship's Despatch under reply. The most important deviations from the scheme may be briefly indicated:—

Class A, "The Country," has been enlarged by the inclusion in it of all exhibits of an ethnological character.

Class B, "The Administration," is modified so as to bring it into harmony with the administrative divisions of the Empire, one advantage of the change being that each Department can now be made specially responsible for the exhibits under those sections which appertain to it.

Class C, "Products and Primary Manufactures," has been drawn up by officers who have had considerable experience in previous exhibitions, and is made to agree in nomenclature and arrangement with the Economic Dictionary now being prepared in the Revenue and Agriculture Department, a compilation which may serve as a scientific and descriptive catalogue of the exhibits in this class.

The arrangement of Class D, "Arts and Industries," is founded on that of the rough scheme, but the sections have been worked out to suit the special conditions of Indian arts and art-manufactures.

Class E should, we think, be made to cover both indigenous and European processes and machinery made in India (of which interesting exhibits can be shown), and articles regularly imported into India for the use of both the Native and European population; appropriate divisions have been added accordingly to this class.

5. The following is the general arrangement of Courts which we suggest might be found the most convenient for the location of the collections. Class A and Class B would each be arranged in a separate Court, as Imperial collections. Class C would occupy a third Court, which might be named the Economic Court, and in which the coarser manufactures would be ranged in close proximity to their corresponding raw products. Class D would, in accordance with the recognized practice at recent exhibitions, be grouped in Provincial Courts, for furnishing the exhibits of which the Provincial authorities will be responsible. Class E might form two Courts, one devoted to Indian, and the other to European exhibits.

6. In addition to the Courts thus indicated we presume that a certain portion of the corridors and avenues would be available for large objects, which, from their size, must be shown in open spaces, and that a reasonable extent of out-door space would be procurable for tents and other objects to be displayed in the open air.

7. As it appears important that Your Lordship should receive before the 1st of October some definite idea of the space necessary for Indian exhibits, we have directed a telegram to be despatched to the India Office indicating that the minimum space required is 60,000 square feet, and that the estimate cannot be reduced below 50,000 square feet.

We have the honor to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servants,

RIPON.

Note on Persian Carpets taken from "The Land of the Lion and Sun," by G. J. Wills, M. D., published 1883 (pages 149 to 152).

The finer and more valuable carpets were not new—in fact, few really good carpets are made now-a-days. At the time I am speaking of (sixteen years ago) the magenta aniline dyes were unknown to the carpet-makers of Persia, and all the colors except the greens were fast. Now-a-days the exact reverse is the case. A very brilliant carpet is produced, and if a wet handkerchief is rubbed on it, the colors come off. These are not fast, and the carpet is worthless.

The aniline dyes are particularly used in the Meshed carpets, and as these are the showiest and most attractive, they are largely exported. Of course a native will not look at them, for when he buys a carpet he expects it to last at least a century. He is generally not disappointed. One sees many carpets which are quite fifty-years old with hardly a sign of wear.

At the time of which I am speaking, carpets had very seldom been exported from Persia, and consequently there was no rubbish manufactured. Now (1883) it is quite different; if a very good carpet is wanted, an old one must be bought.

The carpets made for the European market are coarse and the weaving loose. Many, indeed, are made of fast colors; but gaudy patterns only are used, and the fine and original patterns formerly in vogue are disappearing. Of a couple of hundred carpets brought for sale, perhaps there may be only six distinct patterns, though of course the borders and arrangement of the colors may vary. The favorite patterns are the "Gul Anar" and "Herati." The latter is certainly very effective, and is the pattern of nine-tenths of the carpets exported.

To choose a carpet, the first thing is to see if the colors are fast. This is done by rubbing with a wet cloth. If the slightest tinge is communicated to this, the carpet should be rejected. Then if the carpet is limp, and can be doubled on itself like a cloth, it is "shulberf" (loosely woven) and scamped. A carpet which is well woven (I am speaking of new ones) is always stiff. Greens in the pattern should be avoided, as they will fade to a drab; but this drab is not displeasing. White, on the contrary, in time becomes a pale yellow, and is a good wearing color, and should be chosen rather than avoided.

The thinner and finer the carpet is the greater is its value. The size of the thread of the wool should be noticed, and the smaller it is the better. It should be remembered that, in the question of price, a thinner thread means a great difference in the amount of labor in making.

The size, too, of the pattern should be noted, as a large pattern is proportionately much cheaper. Again, the finer patterns being only undertaken by the best weavers, one is more likely to get a good carpet with a fine pattern than with a coarse. The general effect, too, should be noted. This is never bad, but at times an eccentric pattern is come across.

The softer the carpet is to the hand the more valuable it is, as a rule, if it be not a Meshed carpet with aniline dye. These latter should be avoided, as they always fade and are of very small value.

One of the reasons why Oriental carpets last so long is that chairs are not used, and they are not walked on by boots, and so dirtied and worn, but by bare feet. The carpet should now be doubled and the ends applied to each other. If one is broader than the other it shows careless work, and the carpet should be rejected as "kaj" (uneven), or rather crooked.

It must be then spread on a level floor and smoothed to see if it lies flat. Many carpets have "shatúr," or creases; these never come out. The carpet never lies flat, and wears in a patch over the "shatúr."

If all is yet satisfactory, the carpet must be turned bottom upwards and the edges carefully examined. If any darns are seen in the edges of the carpet, it must be rejected, for the Persians have a plan of taking out any creases by either stretching the edges, which often break under the process, or, if there is a redundancy, cutting it out and fine-drawing it so skilfully that it is only detected on carefully examining the back. Such carpets are worthless.

The top of the carpet should now be inspected. If the edging of cotton at the top or bottom be blue with no white in it the carpet is rubbish, and merely a thing got up for sale—absolutely a sham. The edge or finish should be either white cotton or black wool. The latter is by far the best, but is seldom seen now-a-days. The all woollen carpets are mostly made near Murghab, and by the wandering tribes of Fars; they are very seldom exported, and are always of sad patterns, often very irregular.

In making a carpet, the women who weave it will often run out of the exact shade of wool used in some part of the pattern or even ground-work; they will continue with another shade of the same color. This has a curious effect to the European eye, but the native does not look on it as a defect.

The value in Persia of a carpet in the present day may, if perfect (either new or old), be reckoned at from fifteen shillings to two pounds a square yard. In the larger carpets nothing can be obtained under a pound a square yard.

Of course there are a few carpets which have been made to order for great personages which are worth more than the price I have given, but these are not easily obtained and only at prix fou. By the term carpet, I mean what Persians call kali, that is, in contradistinction to farsch. Kali is our idea of carpet, that is, a floor-covering having a pile.

Farsch means floor-covering generally, and may be "nammad," or felt, or "gelim," a thin, pileless floor-covering of coarse pattern, and much used in Europe as a portière. In these "gelim" white greatly predominates, and they soon get soiled and dirty. They are only used in Persia by the villagers and poor.

The farsch Hamam-i, or bath carpet, is a finer species of "gelim" made near Kermanshah. Both sides are alike, the patterns are elaborate and beautiful, and the colors very lovely; but they fade, being mostly of aniline dye, and are harsh to the feel. Their only recommendation is their extreme portability.

The "nammad" or felt (carpets) are generally used by Persians to go round the room and act as a frame to the carpet (kali) which occupies the top and centre.

They are three in number for each room; two kanáreh, or side pieces, a yard to a yard and a half wide, and a sir-andáz, literally that which is thrown over the head (of the apartment). The kanáreh are from half to two and a half inches in thickness, and are usually of a light-brown or yellow-ochre color, being ornamented with a slight pattern of blue and white, or red and green, which is formed by pinches of the wool inserted when the felt is made.

The best "nammad" are made at Yezd, and are often expensive. They cost about thirty shillings a square yard, and will last a century. They are two inches thick.

Nammad, however, are now getting out of fashion, for they will not stand the wear produced by chairs which are coming into common use among the rich. Carpets are taking their place.

PART IV.

Official Papers.

From J. C. Douglas, Esq., To the Secretary to the Government of India, dated 9th January 1885.

I have the honor to report, for your information and for record, the results of my apicultural observations during the past year.

2. I commenced the year with two stocks of the variety of Apis indica indigenous to Lower Bengal; one of these was a swarm I captured near my office at Alipore. As the weather became warm, these bees built comb and they worked out artificial comb foundation, specially made for them from an engraved plate; from the rapidity with which they worked at the commencement of the season, I anticipated they would prove of value. Before, however, they had half filled their hives, they prepared to swarm, bred drones and queens, and I divided the two stocks into four. These did well, but I got absolutely no surplus honey. I took a few ounces, but I had to feed much more.

3. This variety of Apis indica is kept by villagers; they do not cultivate it at all, but merely encourage the bee by inserting earthen vessels in the house-walls, and they take the honey by taking all the combs, so that the stock perishes. I have received many estimates of the quantity of honey obtained, but they differ widely and are quite unreliable. Having taken many stocks and purchased others, and having kept the bee during two seasons, I am of opinion that it is commercially valueless. Possibly 5 or 6 pounds of honey might, under exceptional circumstances, be obtained by sacrificing the bees, but this is obviously insufficient to repay cultivation. This estimate is confirmed by an account of the cultivation of A. indica in Ceylon,—Journal, Ceylon Branch, Royal Asiatic Society, Volume VII, Part I, No. 23. Of the stocks I had I gave one to a station master on the East India Railway and one to a native gentleman: both these are in hives. Mr. Stocks, of Berhampore, has a stock, from which he recently took half a pound of honey with an extractor. Mr. Stocks being favorably situated and having the appliances will further test the value of this bee under the most favorable circumstances. This bee is not so easily handled as good-tempered Italians, but is as easily managed as the European Black bee, and is better tempered than the cross between the Black and Italian.

4. This bee is valueless, because—(1) its stocks are too light in comb and bees; (2) it swarms too frequently, so that without trouble and much attention only very small hives can be filled; (3) the surplus honey is very small in quantity; (4) the bees do not defend their hive against moth and other vermin, so they readily succumb to the moth, particularly during the rains.

5. Another variety found in Bhutan, building  $5\frac{1}{2}$  cells to the inch, appears far superior to the variety found in Lower Bengal. Captain R. Fulton, R. S. C., stationed at Buxa, has kept this variety. He gave me two stocks, one of which was very weak and failed; the other I have under observation. Captain R. Fulton also gave a stock to a gentleman at Barrackpore. This variety is larger and builds larger cells than the varieties found in the plains, Chumba, and cultivated about Mussooree and elsewhere. I am informed its stocks are sufficiently heavy, but I have no data from which to judge of its commercial value; on this point I shall be able to give an opinion probably by the end of June next. This variety or species is, I believe, undescribed; the stock I have is exceedingly mild in disposition, the workers go out very early, and they readily use the comb of the Italian bees slightly contracting the cell by their outer edge, but they have the failing of not keeping their hive clear of vermin, particularly moth, which they suffer to live unmolested apparently on the floor-board of their hive. Should this variety prove of value, stocks can be readily obtained, but I am decidedly of opinion this variety is very inferior in value to the Italian bee, even though it may prove sufficiently valuable to warrant its cultivation.

6. The variety found cultivated at Bushahr by Mr. Minniken appears to me equal to the European hive bees in productiveness; it is closely allied to the European species, and appears somewhat larger in size; whether it can be readily handled, whether it defends itself against moth and other vermin, and whether or not it swarms to such an extent as to reduce its value, can only be ascertained by observation. This variety or species is, I believe, undescribed. I am of opinion measures should be taken as early as practicable to ascertain the economic value under cultivation of this species. I have written to Mr. Minniken on the subject, and I now send two boxes with instructions for packing two stocks of these bees, which I should like to receive as early as practicable to admit of their being observed during the coming season, provided you are pleased to obtain them for me.

7. As to the possibility of cultivating the Italian bee, I am now quite convinced it can most certainly be cultivated here. I brought out five queens, of which I saved two, and in 1883 these two filled their hives, although they had at first but a few hundred bees; I had nursed these into strong stocks, when one of the queens died; I had no drones, and the rains prevented drone breeding. I had therefore only one stock left. I wrote for four queens, and these were sent by Sir G. Birdwood, but only two arrived alive; one of these became diseased, and I had to destroy her. I again sent for four stocks direct from Milan; of these I saved two queens, which are doing well. I bred a queen, the first bred in India; this queen is doing very well; her stock is very vigorous. I was obliged to remove it from the apiary as it attacked another stock, and robbed it of all its stores. I have now five queens with bees; the stocks are still weak, but I have no doubt whatever I shall be able to distribute during the coming season queens and bees to perhaps a dozen persons who are prepared to receive them. One of the queens was born in 1882; she is now 2½ years old at least, and has been in India more than two years; she has furnished bees and brood for all the other queens and to keep up diseased stocks, and last year I took 15 lbs. of excellent honey from her stock, which as it was kept in Park Street, Calcutta, had very little opportunity of furnishing a rich harvest. I found the bees did exceedingly well; they kept their hives clear of wax, moth and other vermin. I found two deaths—head moths in one hive, evidently destroyed by the bees. I find the bees can get pollen all the year round; it was feared they might not get anything in December and January, but they get almost too much pollen during those months; they are getting honey now.

8. The largest yield per stock I have had reported for Apis indica is 30 lbs. of honey; this is reported by Mr. Seymour of Mussooree. This gentleman has kept bees for several years in Australia, and his testimony is therefore of considerable value. He thinks bee-keeping with Apis indica as found about Mussooree very inferior economically to the culture of A. mellifica in Australia. Setting aside such figures as 500 and 600 lbs. per stock, in America G. M. Doo-little, an apiarist of great experience, considers 50 lbs. of comb honey or 75 lbs. of extracted honey an average crop per stock. Thirty-one Canadian bee-keepers had 1,484 stocks in the spring of 1884; increased to 2,569 stocks during the year; they took 37,250 lbs. of comb honey and 59,845 lbs. of extracted honey. I think one pound of comb honey equal to quite 1½ lbs. of extracted, and so estimated, the yield as above was equal to an average of 80 lbs. of extracted honey and an increase of 90 per cent in stocks of bees. The crop of the year was considered scarcely up to the average. The severe and long American and European winters render apiculture more precarious than in the plains of India, or even in the hills. The great superiority of A. mellifica over A. indica and the importance of acclimatising the former is apparent; the Bushahr bee might prove as productive as, or more so than, A. mellifica.

9. I could have distributed stocks last year had I wished, the one queen would have supplied bees, queens, and drones, but I preferred to import other queens rather than breed in and in. The journey from Europe is very injurious to the queens; even those which appear to arrive in good health are commonly found ultimately to have suffered in their laying powers, or to have become diseased. Knowledge of this fact induced me to import a number of queens in the hope of saving a few, and the ignoring of this has caused the failure of all previous attempts to introduce the European bee into India.

10. During the year I have issued a number of hives and other appliances to persons anxious to take up apiculture in different parts of India; these persons are practising and learning on Apis indica. The issue of Italian bees during the coming season will, I have no doubt, confirm these persons in their resolves, and spread the practice to many others. The Italian bees will be issued to bee-keepers in British Burma, Assam, Orissa, Bengal Proper, Mussooree and Dehra, Bhutan, and elsewhere.

11. As to the natural history of Indian bees of the genus Apis very little is known ; several varieties of A. indica and A. dorsata, and A. florea have been described, but there is much confusion in naming them ; in most cases the descriptions are incomplete, not including the descriptions of drone, queen, and comb ; the life history has not been studied, and some Indian honey bees have not been described at all, being quite unknown to European naturalists. In 1862, Dr. Gerstalker of Berlin discussed the classification of Indian honey bees in a paper read to the "Wander-Versammlung Dentscher Bienenwirthe," and he pointed out the confusion that existed in nomenclature and excellent grounds for a classification so far as the available knowledge admitted. Since the decease of the late Mr. F. Smith, I am informed there is no member of the British Museum staff specially qualified by knowledge of this genus of insects.

12. In my little Handbook of Bee-keeping for India I described a typical A. indica and omitted all mention of the varieties and their synonymous names. I am about to carefully examine the collection I have, and I hope to obtain other specimens. Specimens, particularly if including the drone, queen, and a small piece of comb, would be of great service. I have no doubt, whatever, I shall be able to add considerably to the existing knowledge of Indian honey bees and their life history, as well as discover some of economic value ; in both the Bhutan and Bushahr bees it appears probable insects of economic value have already been discovered ; it remains to decide by observation how these compare severally with the Italian bee now rendered available.

13. As I am about to examine, compare, measure, and describe all the Indian honey bees of which I can obtain specimens, and also to endeavour to discover their affinities and the bearings of these on the origin of the European hive bee, which probably originated in Asia, and as I may not only be able to indicate the best variety and best mode of cultivating it for the benefit of the natives of India, but I may also obtain information of economic and scientific importance to European and American apiculture, I beg that any spare specimens of the number collected by Dr. G. Bidie may be sent to me.

Instructions for transferring and packing Bees in portable Hive.

SMOKE the bees slightly, spray them with thin syrup unless they have honey accessible in their combs ; then with smoke, by shaking and brushing the bees from the combs remove the combs one at a time. Fit the combs into the frames against the top bar, cutting the top of the comb straight, if necessary, and filling up the frames with pieces of comb, if available. The wirefixers are for holding the comb in the frames while tying it in. Tie the comb in the frames by stout twine at every two inches vertically and horizontally. Very white new combs should be rejected, very thick heavy combs containing much honey and sealed may be pared with a knife to one inch. The brood combs, if any, should be placed in the centre frames. If there be much honey in the combs, other food may not be necessary, but full combs travel badly and food may be given by mixing honey and crushed white sugar to a stiff paste and filling the food-box with it. The water bottle should be filled and so corked that the water does not come out unless the bottle be shaken.

2. The combs having been transferred shake or brush the remaining bees into the box, close carefully with cloth or by other means the ventilators of the box, cover the top and open the door ; place the portable hive in the place of the old hive. The portable hive with its entrance, as far as practicable, with some place as the entrance of the old hive should be left till evening ; after dark, when the bees are all in, the door should be closed, the ventilators opened, and the box despatched.

3. If the weather be very cold, the side ventilators may be partly covered, but otherwise they should be left quite uncovered. One brood comb at least should be inserted, if possible, even if from another stock, as the presence of brood prevents absconding.

4. If detained on the road, the bees may be allowed to fly, the door being opened, and closed again after dark. Whenever the door is opened, the side ventilators must be completely closed.

Unless the boxes are to be closed longer than a week, it would not be desirable to open the hive boxes en route and then only if some one is present who could hive the bees if they swarmed out.

5. It will be found convenient in transferring to remove all the frames from the box and put the lid on ; as each comb is cut out of the old hive, brush the bees from it into the box and put on the cover ; if the principal cluster be gently lifted and shaken into the box, there will be no fear of the queen having been left behind.

See also "Driving" and "Transferring" in the Handbook of Bee-keeping for India.

6. The boxes contain a veil, smoker spray diffuser, and one dozen comb fixers ; the articles should be retained excepting the latter, which may, if necessary, be left in the comb, but should, if practicable, be removed.

READ—

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 14, Statistics and Commerce, dated the 12th February 1885, regarding the Indian and Colonial Exhibition to be held in London in 1886.

RESOLUTION.

The share which India is to take in the London Exhibition of 1886 having now been definitely determined, the following information is published for the instruction and guidance of intending exhibitors.

2. The Indian Section will consist of four Divisions :—

- (1) The Imperial Courts, in which will be illustrated the physical features, natural history, ethnology, and administration of the country ; also raw produce and primary manufactures.
- (2) The Provincial Courts, in which will be illustrated local industries such as artware, ornamental fabrics, stone-carving, &c.
- (3) Space occupied by private exhibits not admitted into the Imperial or Provincial Courts.
- (4) A Tea Room.

3. Plans and measurements of the Courts and spaces to be occupied by India have been received, and will shortly be procurable at the Exhibition Branch of the Revenue and Agricultural Department* in Calcutta. It is sufficient for present purposes to state that the most important Division of the Indian Section will be the Provincial Courts, which are to be ranged in the most prominent part of the Exhibition building.

4. Persons desiring space for exhibits in the Imperial Courts or in the Tea Room, must apply to the Exhibition Branch direct. All applications should be in the form annexed, and should state the amount of floor or wall-space required, and in the latter case the entire dimensions of the intended exhibit. It must be understood that it is unlikely that any very large amount of space can be given to any one exhibitor, and it will be advisable that those who wish to exhibit raw produce or rough manufactures, such as jute and cotton yarns and cloths in the Imperial Courts, should take measures to arrange their exhibits in neat cases of a limited size, using, wherever feasible, samples rather than complete lengths, bales, or specimens, of the manufactured article.

5. Similarly, persons who desire to have exhibits admitted into the Provincial Courts must apply to the officer in charge of the Exhibition Office of their Province. The application should be in the same form as that indicated above for applications for the Imperial Court.
